PELASPAN® BIO  by STOROPack

More than just an environmentally friendly packaging material

PELASPAN® BIO

is an innovation in the field of flowable
padding materials

(loose fill) from

Storopack: A product

made only from corn

starch, which can therefore be composted without leaving a trace.

The special feature of PELASPAN® BIO is the stable S-form, which has already proved reliable with loose fill made of Styropor®. Due to the S-Shape, the individual chips interlock each other and form a pad around the products being packed. As a result, the goods are fixed and stabilised in the box.

As PELASPAN® BIO is produced only from natural raw materials, it is completely compostable and can be simply disposed in normal domestic waste.

PELASPAN® BIO can be easily integrated into your existing packaging process. Our packaging specialists will be happy to put together a custom-made integrated solution to match your particular shipping and packaging situation.
